PURPOSE

The Prison Rape Elimination Act (PREA) was signed into Federal Law in September 2003. The purpose of the act was to "provide for the analysis of the incidence and effects of prison rape in Federal, State, and local institutions, to provide information, resources, recommendations and funding to protect individuals from prison rape". PREA also mandated the publication of standards to ensure compliance and improve detection and response strategies in addressing sexual abuse and assault. The final standards were published on June 20, 2012 and became effective on August 20, 2012.

The PREA standards require annual audits of one-third of the facilities under an agency's jurisdiction along with the Governor's certification of statewide compliance in all facilities under the operational control of the state's executive branch, including all private facilities operated on behalf of the executive branch to house offenders. A failure to comply with the standards will result in a loss of five percent of identified federal grant funding.

The New Mexico Corrections Department (NMCD) is committed to a zero tolerance standard towards all forms of sexual abuse and sexual harassment between employees, volunteers, contractors and offenders. NMCD has supported PREA and continues to work towards a zero tolerance culture regarding sexual abuse and sexual harassment within its institutions. During the first cycle year, four facilities were successfully audited and were found to be in compliance with all the standards: Otero County Prison Facility; the Penitentiary of New Mexico; Guadalupe County Correctional Facility and Northeast New Mexico Detention Facility. The second cycle year, Western New Mexico Correctional Facility; New Mexico Women's Correctional Facility; Southern New Mexico Correctional Facility; Lea County Correctional Facility were found to be in compliance. During the third cycle year, Roswell Correctional Facility, Springer Correctional Facility and Central New Mexico Correctional Facility were found to be in compliance.

AGENCY ACHIEVEMENTS IN 2017

- 1) The biggest accomplishment achieved in 2017, is that six (6) facilities under the control of the New Mexico Corrections Department successfully passed all PREA Audits.

- 2) New Mexico Corrections Department received IJIS Grant Funding to create an electronic PREA incident tracker and database. Southern New Mexico Correctional Facility and Western New Mexico Correctional Facility were the facilities chosen to pilot the new database. Both facilities went live in October 2017. The system has been instrumental in accurate capturing allegations from beginning to end.
- 3) New Mexico Corrections Department partnered with the Transgender Resource Center and taught "Transgender 101" to all staff at two facilities. The remaining facilities will be scheduled for 2018.
- 4) New Mexico Corrections Department partnered with Just Detention International to develop a web based training for Medical and Mental Health Staff.
- 5) NMCD was awarded a PREA Grant. The grant allowed for the hiring of two positions, an Administrative Assistant and a Management Analyst. With the addition of the two positions, the NMCD PREA Department expanded and is now able to provide much needed assistance to the facility PREA Compliance Managers.

to provide clear expectations to inmates, staff, contractors and volunteers to maintain violence-free facilities. Moreover, and possibly most importantly, we have a duty to provide opportunities for inmates to serve their sentences in an environment that is free of violence and threats of sexual abuse while supporting opportunities for successful reintegration into the community.

The New Mexico Department of Corrections has a zero tolerance policy for all forms of sexual misconduct and harassment. For the purposes of defining sexual misconduct under PREA, the following definitions have been formalized by the agency:

NMCD ANALYSIS

This report includes comparison of 2015, 2016 and 2017 data as it relates to the aforementioned definitions. While completing this analysis, it should be noted:

- A large number of cases for sexual harassment are related to "pat-search" allegations

Pursuant to Standard 155.88 of the Prison Rape Elimination Act (PREA), the New Mexico Corrections Department (NMCD) is required to:

- Aggregate incident based sexual abuse data annually from publically and privately operated facilities.

NEW MEXICO CORRECTIONS DEPARTMENT

"We commit to the safety and well-being of the people of New Mexico by doing the right thing, always."

- Use the data to assess and improve the effectiveness of its sexual abuse prevention, detection and response policies and training by:
 - Identifying problem areas
 - Tracking corrective action on an on-going basis; and
 - Prepare an annual report of its findings
- Compare the year's current data and corrective actions with those from previous years and provide an assessment of the agency's progress in addressing sexual abuse.
- Publish the annual report on the NMCD website of its findings and corrective actions for each facility, as well as the agency as a whole.

AGGREGATED DATA

During the calendar year of 2017, the State Prison Rape Elimination Act (PREA) Coordinator tracked the referrals for investigation into allegations of inmate on inmate and staff on inmate sexual abuse, sexual harassment and sexual activity between inmates.

To review the data totals for the years, below summary details the totals:

- In 2015, NMCD received a total of one hundred and seventy (170) referrals for investigation regarding inmate sexual activity, sexual abuse and sexual harassment, and undue familiarity. All cases referred were investigated by an investigator certified by Office of Professional Standards.
- In 2016, NMCD received a total of one hundred and ninety-seven (196) allegations. A number of new cases were brought forth which relate to a past case. For purposes of this report, those cases are listed as "Administratively Closed".
- In 2017, NMCD received a total of three hundred and twelve (312) allegations. This number is significantly higher than previous years. There are several reasons behind the increase.
 - NMCD has instituted a PREA Database which has improved the tracking of these investigations.
 - Sexual Activity between inmate and inmate has increase to nearly 70 percent higher than previous years. The increase is due to educating the officers on the signs of sexual activity between female populations.

FACILITY SPECIFIC DATA AND SUMMARY

Central New Mexico Correctional Facility (CNMCF)

Central New Mexico Correctional Facility (CNMCF), located in Los Lunas, New Mexico is one of six adult correctional facilities operated by the State of New Mexico Corrections Department. Built in 1980 as a 480-bed medium custody facility, it has grown to encompass a three unit complex housing up to 1300 inmates. The mission of the Central New Mexico Correctional Facility is "to protect the public, employees and offenders under the jurisdiction of the New Mexico Corrections Department by implementing sentences, programs and services under conditions of housing, monitoring and training, which will provide the protection in a cost effective manner".

The Main Unit, also known as the Level III, provides the vast majority of support, auxiliary and specialized services for the two sister units. The unit is now designed to house a maximum of 678 Level III, IV, V and VI inmates in single and multi-occupancy cells/dorms. The design of the facility includes ten single cell housing units. These units have three pods in each unit with 16 cells per pod or forty-eight (48) inmates per unit for a total of 480 single cells. The main unit is broken down into one primary and four secondary missions. The primary mission is to serve as the Reception and Diagnostic Center for the Department (RDC), Mental Health Treatment Center (MHTC), Long Term Care Unit (LTCU) beds and dormitory style housing beds for geriatric inmates and the Diagnostic and Evaluation (D&E) Unit. There are a total of 63 buildings in the main unit which include four prison industry buildings, training, hospitality center, traffic control and garage.

Level II unit was originally designed to house 204 minimum custody inmates who have statutory restrictions that prevent them from being housed in less secure minimum custody facilities. In 2008 the design was restructured to accommodate 288 Level II inmates. The Level II is located on the same compound as the Main Unit, but has a separate perimeter. Over time the unit began to hold medical and mental health and other inmates that did not qualify by statute to be housed in other minimum custody units. The design of the facility includes six dormitories each accommodating 48 inmates.

Level I was originally built in 1939 and was commonly referred to as "The Farm." The unit is now considered a historical site. At one time the unit was self sufficient; inmates worked the land, grew vegetables and raised livestock. Level I houses a total of 336 unrestricted minimum custody inmates in the fifty-six (56) six man units. Inmates assigned to the Level I serve the New Mexico Highway Department, and other governmental agencies. A Forestry Crew consisting of four firefighting crews of 12 inmates each responded to fires in New Mexico. The facility also has a small work release program.

Guadalupe County Correctional Facility (GCCF)

The Guadalupe County Correctional Facility (GCCF) is located just off of South Highway 54, two miles southwest of Santa Rosa, New Mexico. Santa Rosa lies approximately 120 miles east of Albuquerque, New Mexico and 160 miles west of Amarillo, Texas. Santa Rosa is the county seat of Guadalupe County and has a population of approximately 2,700. The city is located on Historic Route 66. Guadalupe County Correctional Facility is operated by GEO Group Inc., a private, for profit, corporation headquartered in Boca Raton, Florida. The GEO Group Inc. operates over 100 correctional, detention and treatment facilities worldwide. GCCF is under contract with the State of New Mexico to house up to 601 State inmates with a security classification of Level III (medium custody). Under a separate contract GCCF houses up to 20 Guadalupe County detainees. The detainees are housed separately and kept out of sight and sound of the State population.

GCCF sits on 440 acres of land with 27 acres within the secure perimeter. Construction of GCCF began in 1997 and GCCF received its first inmates in January of 1999. The physical plant consist three buildings totaling 191,400 square feet. GCCF's design is very efficient in that inmate housing and nearly all support functions are located in one "main" building. The main building is situated in a north/south with a corridor running the length of the building. Inmate housing units and support functions are located on wings off of the main corridor. Remotely operated grills/gates in corridors provide for compartmentalization in the event of emergency situations. Staff and visitors enter GCCF through a remotely controlled front gate. Immediately upon entering staff and visitors are required to undergo a search of their packages/bags and must clear a walk through metal detector. Upon clearing the metal detector and providing a photo identification, at the front control point, staff may enter the administration area. The administration area includes the Warden's office, personnel, mail, business office, records, and contract manager offices. After passing a second control point, staff has access to medical, segregation, supply/warehouse, laundry, food service, warehouse, visitation, medical, programs and housing units.

There are two general population housing units. Housing Unit One has one control center, five dayrooms, 120 double bunked cells split on two levels for a total of 240 beds, and 33 single cells for the segregation living area for a total of 273 beds. Housing Unit Two has one control center, five dayrooms, and 153 double bunked cells split on two levels for a total of 306 beds. Housing Unit three houses segregation inmates and consists of 22 double bunked cells on one level for a maximum of 22 beds. Housing units are connected to the two service buildings by an activity unit. GCCF contains one gym, one commissary, two mental health offices, one therapeutic community activity room, one education resource center, eight case worker offices, one computer lab, and six standard classrooms.

GCCF has a large gymnasium. Outdoor recreation areas include a softball field, two basketball courts and four handball courts; there are ten cover individual recreation modules for segregation inmates.

NEW MEXICO CORRECTIONS DEPARTMENT

"We commit to the safety and well-being of the people of New Mexico by doing the right thing, always."

The mission of GCCF is "to maintain a level of security such that the safety of the public is maintained as well as the safety of GCCF's employees and inmates. A system of order shall be initiated and perpetuated in such a manner as to produce an atmosphere conducive to efficient work, programming activities and services for all, and in an environment that provides for the rehabilitation of all inmates."

Accomplishments

GCCF successfully passed a PREA Audit in July 2017.

Lea County Correctional Facility (LCCF)

Lea County Correctional Facility (LCCF) is a private prison that is owned and operated by the GEO Group, Inc. through agreement with the State of New Mexico. The facility is located on sixty acres of property that is owned by Lea County. Lea County has leased this land to the GEO Group for the purpose of operating the Lea County Correctional Facility. The facility is located approximately four miles outside of the city of Hobbs, New Mexico. The facility was constructed in 1997 and was occupied with its first inmates in 1998. The facility holds inmates who are committed to the custody of the New Mexico Department of Corrections.

The facility consists of a total of eight buildings within the secure perimeter. There are four housing units, each with five pods, a day room and cells for housing inmates, with usually two inmates in each cell. The facility also maintains a 42-cell restrictive housing unit when the use of segregation is necessary for inmate management. The design facility capacity is 1266 inmates. There is a multipurpose building housing the kitchen, laundry, property room, academic and vocational school, medical and behavior health staff, supply room, caustics and toxic room, intake, library, chapel and visitation.

The facility buildings are connected by internal corridors allowing for access to all buildings without having to go outside. Entrance to the secure facility is done through a multipurpose building and access to the maintenance building is gained by exiting this same building. The maintenance area is a separate building from the remainder of the building, but is located in the secure perimeter. The facility has a large recreation yard which is used by inmates on a daily basis. The recreation yard is sufficient in size to allow for multiple large muscle activities at a single time by multiple inmates. There is also a large industries building that is current not being utilized. The Warden has plans to implement a wheelchair repair program in the near future utilizing this building with inmates doing the repairs.

The administrative building is located outside the secure compound and serves as a main entrance to the facility. The administrative building houses the Warden's office, Business Office, Personnel, Mail Room, Main Control Center, Roll Call Room and sally port into the compound. This building is adequate to meet the needs of staff that provide necessary support for facility operations.

The mission of the facility is as follows: "It is the mission of the Lea County Correctional Facility to maintain full compliance with the standards, Codes and Court Orders, which may be applicable to the care and custody of New Mexico Corrections Department inmates at the facility. The management and supervision of the inmates at the LEA County Correctional Facility is considered to be an integral part of the Criminal Justice System and the New Mexico

Corrections Department. As such, it is the mission of Lea County Correctional Facility to manage the facility in a safe and secure manner, providing public safety through a continuum of custody, control, supervision, programs and services for inmates, with professionalism, progressive management and financial responsibility."

Northwest New Mexico Correctional Center (NMWCF)

Northwest New Mexico Correctional Center, located in Grants, New Mexico, is a privately owned and operated facility. On June 15, 1989, Northwest then New Mexico Woman's Correctional Center opened its doors to 149 female inmates who transferred from the New Mexico Corrections Department's Western New Mexico Correctional Facility, also in Grants. The designed capacity was 204 inmates. In 1994, the population had increased to over 250. To alleviate this situation, CCA submitted a proposal and received approval from the New Mexico Corrections Department to construct two additional minimum security housing units and an additional medium security unit (bringing the capacity to 322), as well as construction of a therapeutic unit for the treatment of drug and alcohol abuse offenders. Construction began in May 1995 and was completed in December 1995. In October 1999, a second expansion began and was completed in April 2000. With this expansion, approximately 57,303 square feet was added to the now existing 124,997 square footage. The 1999 expansion added a new Corrections Industries (standalone building); a new medical, dental, pharmaceutical, and medical administration area; along with 274 dormitory style housing units. An average of 704 inmates reside at NMWCF at any given time.

In July 2016, a new contract was signed between CCA (now CoreCiviv) and the New Mexico Corrections Department which changed our mission from housing adult females, to now housing convicted adult males for the State of New Mexico. The new facility mission is to provide a pre-release preparation programming and substance abuse treatment to adult inmates with 24 months or less to serve. The facility name was changed to Northwest New Mexico Correctional Center, and the transition began in September 2016, with the moving out of the female population and moving in the male population.

Accomplishments

In December 2017, NMWCF passed the Federal PREA Audit. This is an amazing accomplishment, as the facility had recently transitioned from housing female inmate to housing male inmates. While completing the transition to house male inmates, all staff went through additional training through NIC and the Corrections Academy to assist in the transition in preparation for the transition.

The Penitentiary of New Mexico (PNM)

PNM is located along the old turquoise Trail, 14 miles south of Santa Fe. PNM is the State's only super-max facility, housing the highest security classification of inmates in the State of New Mexico. The PNM Complex is comprised of three facilities housing male inmates in 1) Level II (previously Categorized as a minimum restricted unit); 2) Level V Special Management Unit (previously categorized as a close custody unit); and 3) Level VI Special Management Unit for the highest security classification of offenders.

PNM maintains its national accreditation status from the American Correctional Association and reports that PNM continues to intensify its efforts to achieve the mission of the Corrections Department by providing a balanced system approach to corrections from incarceration to community-based supervision with training, education, programs and services that provide opportunities for inmates to transition within the Department and into the Community. The New Mexico Corrections Department's (NMCD) mission statement is "We commit to the safety and well-being of the people of New Mexico by doing the right thing, always." NMCD's credo is "CRED: Courage, Responsibility, Ethics and Dedication."

PNM Level II was previously known as minimum restrict. Inmate's criminal background and record of institutional behavior indicate that the inmate can function in a dormitory setting without presenting a significant risk to the safety, security, and the orderly operation of the institution. The inmate must not have a recent history of violent incidents or escape. The inmate has the ability to work outside the confines of the security perimeter, while under staff supervision without posing a risk of escape. The inmates assigned to Level II have less than four (4) years, until their projected release and are not serving a sentence for first-degree murder.

NEW MEXICO CORRECTIONS DEPARTMENT

"We commit to the safety and well-being of the people of New Mexico by doing the right thing, always."

PNM Level V is a Special Management Unit. For placement at Level V, institutional behavior indicates the inability to function in general population, as the inmate poses a threat to the safety of staff, inmates or to the security of the institution. The inmate requires separation from the general population with limited movement and activities. Some inmates in level V are housed in single occupancy cells for 23 hours per day, receiving one (1) hour per day for recreation. Other inmates may or may not be allowed to congregate with other inmates and inmates in this level have been identified for reintegration to a general population facility.

PNM Level VI is a Special Management Unit. For placement at Level VI, institutional behavior threatens the security of the institution, requiring separation from the general population. This behavior includes, but is not limited to, assaults, escapes, inciting riots and planning or participating in STG activities. The inmates are housed in single occupancy cells for 23 hours per day with one (1) hour of recreation and are not allowed to congregate with other inmates.

The PNM Level VI and Level V facilities are designed similarly with three buildings (1, 2, and 3). The Buildings are divided into A and B Units with alpha housing pods within each Unit. The inmates are housed in single cells with numerous accessible strip search cages in the pod and in the entry way areas outside of the housing pods. The Control Station is maintained on the second level with glass floors, windows accessibility and visibility to the pods, and it contains the video monitoring equipment for ingress/egress, and the pod housing units.

The Supervisory staff and Program staff maintains their offices within each building. The Level VI and Level V facilities function independently with separate Laundry Management, contracted Medical and Mental Health staff work in the Infirmary, a Gymnasium, Education Unit, Library, Chapel, Commissary, Visit Area, Property Area, Sally Port and Intake Area. Both Level VI and Level V receive food services through a contractor, Trinity Foods located in the Kitchen at the Level II facility. The Level II Facility consists of two housing units (A and B) with one of the units functioning as a therapeutic community for sex offenders. The Level II facility is designed for dormitory housing and program access is within the confines of the Level II facility. Inmates assigned to Level II have the option for work line assignments on the grounds of PNM and outside the physical structure of Level II. The Level VI, Level V, and Level II facilities house approximately 288 inmates each and PNM's maximum total population is approximately 861 inmates.

Accomplishments

PNM painted new signs throughout the facility. Painting the PREA information on the walls makes it difficult for inmates to destroy the signs. The signs are in big letters and higher up on the walls. Making them clearly visible for all inmate access to the PREA hotline and victim advocacy.

promote offender reentry into the community. WNMCF is committed to providing public safety by operating a safe, secure and accredited correctional facility that serves the safety and wellbeing of the people of New Mexico.

Accomplishments

Western New Mexico Correctional Facility has updated all inmate literature regarding PREA. New PREA signs were painted throughout the facility making it difficult for inmates to rip down or destroy, ensuring they are seen and can be used by every inmate. Inmate cell windows were painted half way up to limit cross-gender viewing.

PREA Advocacy Phone Line

Throughout the New Mexico Corrections Department, inmates are using the dedicated advocacy line. Inmates are not only using the line for advocacy regarding past sexual abuse, they are also reaching out for advice in how to help family members that may have suffered abuse or in an effort to learn how to talk to their children that may have been abused.
