Policy CD-101300

PROCEDURES: [4-4517] [4-4520]

Efforts shall be made to treat religions equally.

An inmate's religious requests, including those considered fundamental and essential, may be denied for reasons of security or for other compelling reasons. If a request is denied, alternatives to accommodate the religious practice must be explored which might allow the inmate to practice by means appropriate to their custody level.

- A. Sacramental wine is necessary for the worship of some religious groups, i.e. the requirements of the ritual cannot be satisfied without the use of wine. Sacramental wine is not to be offered to inmates unless documented as having been deemed essential by the religious' judicatory. In those cases where the religious ritual can only be satisfied by offering the Sacramental wine to the inmate, documentation should be provided demonstrating that this is essential to the practice of the religion. The warden with advice from the chaplain may permit inmates to receive a small amount of sacramental wine. For scheduled services for which wine is authorized, the religious representative will supply the wine and be allowed to bring it into the facility. At the conclusion of the service, the clergy must remove from the facility any sacramental wine not used in the service.
- B. If items or activities are used to facilitate practices that are essential to the practice of a religion, the Corrections Department may provide those items through donation o unless they are denied for security reasons. If such items are stored, they will be treated with due respect and made available at normal times of worship.
 - Religious Property (Group): Items defined by religious group tenets which are permitted within security constraints for use in group religious practices.
 - Religious Property (Personal): Items defined by religious group tenets which are permitted within security constraints for use in personal religious practices.
- C. Individual items which are not essential to a religion will not be provided by NMCD, but personnel and volunteers, with the approval of the facility warden, will make reasonable efforts to accommodate the inmate's purchase of such items or acquisition through donation, unless there is a compelling State interest to deny the items. Once approved, such items are to be placed on the inmate's property list and shall not to be treated as contraband unless altered from their original form.

- D. Holy Day Observance: A religious based observance, supported by tenet, which may or may not support accommodation of group gatherings.
1. Allow up to two hours for group gatherings on non-work proscription days.
 2. Allow up to four hours for group gatherings on work proscription days, (Exception: A minimum of six (6), but no more than eight (8), hours for Native American sweat lodge and non-native sweat lodge ceremonies).
- E. Predatory Behavior Management Program may provide religious services as follows:
1. Approved Volunteer Religious Advisors and Chaplain visits will be available for inmates.
 2. Educational Televisions will be utilized to reach the largest number of inmates with diverse religious programming.
 3. Sweat Lodge will be available every 60 days beginning Step 2.
 4. Pipe and smudge stick will be available every 30 days.
 5. Religious meals as approved.
- F. Accommodations for inmates' religious diets, whose religious beliefs require the adherence to religious dietary laws. Inmates must submit a written request for a religious diet. The food service provider will accommodate facility approved religious diet requests. [4-4319]
- G. Institutions may organize religious review committees (composed of administrators, chaplains and community religious leaders) to assist the facility warden, to review religious requests and to ensure equity and consistency of those decisions. They may recommend and/or facilitate the verification of purported basic tenets of religions with which they are not familiar. All committee recommendations require the approval of the Warden or a designee.
- H. Food items purchased or provided from outside sources for holy day observances will only be allowed if one of the following applies:
1. An approved outside volunteer(s) provides food item(s) that is purchased from a vendor, and is present to conduct the observance, with the approval of the Warden or a designee.
 2. Where security permits, inmates may be allowed to purchase and bring canteen food items to holy day observances, when requested in advance of the observance. All food must be consumed during the observance; remaining food items will be destroyed.

- I. Inmates of the same religious group assigned to a facility or custody level will be permitted to gather for holy day observances within allowable safety and security policies. [2-CO-5E- 01]
- J. An inmate who changes his or her name for religious reasons must use the name under which he or she was committed for all official purposes while they are under the supervision of the Corrections Department to ensure proper tracking of individuals and accurate record keeping. The inmate may use their name that was changed for religious reasons for all non-official purposes.
- K. Inmates are eligible to request a change in religious preference only once every 12 months. Requests are to be submitted in writing to the Chaplain or Classification Officer, on the Change of Religious Preference / Religious form (CD-101301.1). The form must be signed by the Warden or Deputy Warden and submitted to the Director of the Adult Prisons Division for review. Final approval and change will be made by the NMCD Director of Adult Prisons.
- L. The Chaplains/Religious Coordinators will submit a report each month to the Warden that documents the religious services programs of the institution. The report shall include schedules or calendars that reflect the dates, times and names of volunteer groups that provide religious programs.
- M. As available, the Department will assist state and national organizations to provide religious programming at one or more Corrections Department institutions.
